Calabrese Huff, PC is a premier, full-service family law firm led by three former big-firm lawyers who have joined forces to provide superior, boutique-style personal service to every client. The firm handles divorce (collaborative, mediated and litigated matters), complex property division, paternity, child custody, child support, grandparents' rights, same sex parenting rights, marital agreements, adoption and assisted reproduction.

Calabrese Huff is passionate about helping clients achieve their goals. "One of the things we do best is integrating our years of legal experience with our years of experience with family dynamics (in our own families and our clients') to provide high quality, real-world advice about the law, the range of options, and the impact of those options on clients and their families," says Huff.

One of those options is the collaborative process which gives clients, rather than courts, control over the decisions that are made about their children and their property in their divorce. Calabrese Huff has been a leader in this movement since its inception in Texas in 2000. "Clients quickly learn that if they want to protect themselves, their wallets, and their children from the harm of litigation, they choose collaborative law," Calabrese says.

The senior lawyers at Calabrese Huff trained at major Dallas law firms which stress attention to detail and in-depth legal knowledge about complex matters. The firm maintains those same high standards while providing personal attention and support to every client from its conveniently located Park Cities office in Preston Center.
